

Adige Cycle Route

from MERANO to LAKE GARDA - explorer

Time for nature and culture!

Under this motto, you will navigate along the Adige River to Lake Garda at a comfortable pace. Lush Mediterranean vegetation characterizes the South Tyrol-Trentino region, vineyards nestle against the mountain slopes and, together with many a stately castle, create a picturesque ensemble.

Sights and cultural treasures in the cities of Bolzano, Trento, and Rovereto are literally along the way and can be collected like pretty pearls. In addition, the region south of the main Alpine ridge also scores with a well-maintained network of cycle paths.

Cycling through the fertile wine-growing region of Vallagarina, you will finally reach your destination of Riva del Garda or Torbole sul Garda with a spectacular panorama of the deep blue lake.

Itinerary

Day 1: Independent arrival in Merano

Welcome to the spa town of Merano. This idyllic little town, located on the Passer River and the banks of the Adige, boasts a mild, almost Mediterranean climate despite its alpine surroundings. It is considered a dignified place to enjoy the lush nature, culture, and history to your heart's content and to indulge your palate with local delicacies.

Day 2: Merano – Tramin/Castelfeder Holiday Region (approx. 45 km)

Set off along the Adige Cycle Path from the fruit growers to the roots of South Tyrolean winegrowers. As far as the eye can see, magnificent apple orchards and vineyards, graceful castles and palaces, and well-kept South Tyrolean villages line the cycle path along the Überetsch region. The evening in a cozy atmosphere invites you to sample the finely crafted specialties. And contrary to its supposedly 'cool' name, a relaxing swim in Lake Kaltern feels just right in its warm waters.

Day 3: Experience Bolzano (approx. 50 km) – 2nd night in Tramin/Castelfeder Holiday Region

How about a little more South Tyrolean joie de vivre?

You can choose between cycling around the Montiggler lakes, which lie idyllically in the forest, around the attractive villages, or along the Adige River to Bolzano at a leisurely pace.

An elegant old town, architectural finesse, art and cultural treasures, the archaeological museum with 'Ötzi', the mummy from the glacier ice, charming residences nestled in the green surroundings – and many cozy places in the heart of Bolzano to give space to the Mediterranean way of life – await you.

The sun continues on its way, casting a glowing light on the porphyry rocks, and you can enjoy South Tyrolean hospitality with a good glass of wine and a hearty meal.

Day 4: Tramin/Castelfeder Holiday Region – Trento (approx. 45 km)

Whether it's the mountain ranges of the neighboring Dolomites or the simple Mendel ridge that points the way to the Adige Valley, the cycle path winds its way through the lush South Tyrolean lowlands, following the Adige River, slips through the historically significant Salurn Pass, and continues into the Trentino valley basin. At the end of the day, the venerable city of Trento awaits its guests with culinary specialties and a huge helping of culture.

Day 5: Trento – Rovereto (approx. 25 km)

The Adige Valley widens and becomes more charming, the foothills of the mountain ranges transform into lush green hills.

In the small town of Rovereto, Venetian history meets modern culture, and pretty squares surrounded by historic buildings invite you to linger and discover the city of arts.

Day 6: Rovereto – Lake Garda (Riva del Garda/Torbole) (approx. 20 - 25 km)

Continue downstream until you leave the Adige Valley at Mori and, after a slight climb to the Passo San Giovanni (287 m), roll downhill through picturesque surroundings to your destination on the shores of the lake. Lake Garda has flair; come and experience the charming atmosphere in this alpine setting for yourself. Treat yourself to a swim in these clean waters, stroll through the picturesque villages, visit one or two sights, or get back on your bike to conquer the bizarrely laid out Ponale Trail on the rugged flanks of the Lake Garda mountains – breathtaking views included!
